January 16: Claudia Schmidt and Sally Rogers double bill $15

Claudia and Sally have each made frequent appearances on Public Radio International's "A Prairie Home Companion". The mutual eclectic tastes of Claudia Schmidt and Sally Rogers led them to regular appearances together and, luckily, this one at Stone Soup.

January 23: Blues Night featuring Marjorie Thompson $15

Local blues artists perform an evening of blues at Stone Soup. Some say that you have to suffer to sing the blues. On the other end of the spectrum it's a joy and a pleasure to listen to Marjorie perform them.

January 30: The Nields; opener: We're About Nine $15

Nerissa and Katryna Nields have been the darlings of the coffeehouse/festival scene since 1991, with tunes ranging from off-the-hook idiosyncratic to kicking to heartbreaking. The quirky, emotive songs of The Nields have always challenged the mind and touched the heart.

February 6: Greg Greenway; opener: Garry Foisy $15

Beneath the radar of the corporate music world there are gems to be found. Greg Greenway is a multi-faceted one. A rare combination of instrumental expertise, a soulful and moving singer, powerful poet, and sparkling entertainer. What better way to warm a winter evening!

February 13: Mark Erelli, opener: Hannah Devine $15 adv. | $17 day of show

Ever since he released his self-titled debut at 24, Mark Erelli has exhibited an uncommon musical maturity. His music ranges from roots rock, folk blues and western swing to rockabilly, 19th-century ballads, lullabies and songs of social and political commentary. You'll fall in love with his music at this pre-Valentine's day concert.

February 20: Richard Julian; opener: Mark Cutler $15

Richard Julian is a long way from playing Vegas cocktail lounges, which was how he began his musical career. But after four records and logging thousands of road miles, this mild-mannered and disarmingly charming, bespectacled artist can stop loitering in the corner of the public's eye and takes his rightful spot front and center on the Stone Soup Stage.

February 27: Katzberg and Katzberg (fragrance-free evening) $15

The first time Kate Katzberg sang in public was in 1973 - the night of her sister Joyce's gig at the Mouthpiece Coffeehouse in downtown Providence. The sisters are teaming up for this rare double bill concert and will be joined by Bob Asprinio and Otis Read. Thank you for helping to make this a fragrance free event.
